

US Army soldiers wear a uniform for everyday work. First, they moved the bottom pockets to the shoulder sleeves to make them easier to reach. In the year 2004, the Army made some important changes to it and gave soldiers a new combat uniform. They also changed some of the things on the uniform.