

Case-control studies Case-control studies compare the past exposure of cases with the disease to the past exposure of cases that did not have the disease.