

Typically, IC engine emissions are higher than those of external combustion engines. Fuel detonation causes noise in reciprocating internal combustion engines.