

1:Engagement and Interaction: Being physically present in a classroom allows students to engage with the material more actively.They can ask questions, participate in discussions, and collaborate with classmates, which can enhance understanding and retention of the subject matter.2: Immediate Feedback: In-person attendance enables teachers to provide immediate feedback to students.