

So, to code a real number in  $n$  positions, we can, for example, define a comma after the  $K$  least significant digits,