

Emotional adjustment: The psychological stress of coping with a new experience may also contribute to the worsening of symptoms.