

No doubt , it is human nature t seek stability and from friendships. As the saying goes, " A friend in need is a friend indeed." Ahmed and Mohammed are best friends . Ahmed is an intelligent and creative student who comes from a poor background. He likes to study most of the time. All of his friend love him because he is a friendly and person. He has a strong sense of humanity towards others and is constantly helping others with their projects. Most of his classmates call him Mr. Help Man. On the other hand, Mohammed comes from a wealthy background and is known for his sense of humor. He always makes Ahmed laugh and possesses a humble and generous personality. Both Ahmed and Mohammed help each other, and they enjoy spending time together. In conclusion, Ahmed and Mohammed share a close bond as friends. Despite their different backgrounds, they have unique personalities and commonalities. What are your thoughts on their friendship ?