

Studying in an international environment with English language presents a valuable opportunity for learning and personal growth, Through interacting with my international colleagues and professors, I will be exposed to diverse and different perspectives, which will broaden my horizons.