

Ah, I understand now you're asking about the grammar construction 'have something done' and 'get something done' in English. I'll get the report finished by tomorrow.  * Have something done: This is a more formal way to say it. |Less formal |