although "assessment" and "evaluation" are used to assess the quality of teaching and learning. they have different meanings. assessment is a series of procedures used to determine an attribute of individual or group of people. it involves gathering and analyzing information about the levels of student achievement in attaining learning goals. Evaluation is seen as a proccess of stating the value of something

Summarized by © lakhasly.com