management information system uses various transaction data from a TPS to help middle management optimize planning and decision-making.