

The court of hell It's sweet, a heritage home, which the people of Homs appreciate a lot. The owners of workshops that manufacture hummus sweets attend a type of candy made from specially prepared wheat flour called semolina, which is placed on a protected slab on the fire in a large way so that the semolina turns directly into a mature substance to which the diameter of sugar is added. From their great appreciation of this type of candy, they held an annual holiday for which they celebrate with other holidays that they inherited from their parents and grandparents. These holidays are exclusively on Thursdays.
