

The doctor has an important role in the development of society. But the doctor's job has an important economic role.