

The Result of French and Indian War (1754–63): The special effects of French and Indian war became clear as conflicts escalated. Their desire for revenge influenced France's decision to follow with the Americans during the American Revolution; French aid was helping to make the American defeat the British.