It is about two young people who fall in love with each other. However, their families, the Montagues and the Capulets, had an argument many years before.
the Supuloto, had an argument many years belore.