Introduction Health care services in Saudi Arabia have been given a high priority by the government.During the past few decades, health and health services have improved greatly in terms of quantity and quality.