

Ladies and gentlemen, Thank you for being here today, gathered on this international platform where we can join together and address our fellow Lebanese immigrants from all corners of the world. Our love for Lebanon binds us together, no matter where we may physically be. We have all witnessed the devastating impact of the recent crises our nation has faced – the political instability, the economic turmoil, and the dire humanitarian situation. It is a powerful moment to witness the strength and unity of our people, no matter how far apart we may be. Today, I stand before you as a social activist, driven by an unwavering sense of belonging, love, and patriotism for our beautiful homeland, Lebanon. Throughout history, Lebanese immigrants have achieved incredible feats, contributing to societies they now call home. Our talents and abilities have enriched countless countries, both culturally and economically. We must find ways to bridge the divide, to stay connected to our roots, and to use our experiences abroad to contribute meaningfully. In conclusion, my fellow Lebanese immigrants, I urge you all to remember the importance of your deeds and existence outside of Lebanon. Patriotism goes beyond borders; it transcends geographical boundaries. As Lebanese living abroad, we possess a remarkable connection to our roots. Each one of us here embodies the spirit of Lebanon, a spirit that is known for its resilience, strength, and unwavering commitment. It is our collective duty to ensure its survival, preservation, and growth. Thank you.
