

So you get a sense and the by the end of the time 16 questions in the 3 months is that you get a question every 4 times more or less .It is not something that is bothering you all the time .?That is my experience with continuous maturity assessm?After today, for the next two weeks, you send questions specifically to the people that was there, and you can see the impact of what you've done, because you already have previous data from that person, you have analy action, and you can see how the action is improving or not the maturity, what you areasuring.?The kissing here is that you ask people in the place where they are, which is Webex, instead of sending an email, sending a survey, a link, or a text message or something like that.So my proposal is we can implement that in an essay to do with Webex.I can check with the in the past to make it smaller, and measureable it is important to Dub buy police.Is that increasing maturity?