

Global warming: a comprehensive analysis of its multiple causes and devastating effects on ecosystems and human life. Coral Reef Bleaching: Warmer ocean temperatures cause coral bleaching, damaging vital marine ecosystems Changes in Species Distribution: Many species are forced to migrate to find suitable habitats, disrupting ecological balance Increased Wildfires Drier conditions and heatwaves increase the risk of wildfires, which destroy forests and release large amounts of CO<sub>2</sub>. Additionally, burning forests releases stored carbon Agriculture. aspect of climate change, primarily driven by the enhanced greenhouse effect caused by human activities. | skypeenglish.vn. 1 skypeenglish.vn Deforestation Trees absorb CO<sub>2</sub>, so cutting them down reduces this natural process. It's a significant.