

Most of these economies which were affected during recent economic downturn have now recovered and are growing at a fast pace again.