

5- How about a door and a walkway on the receding side of the building? We can use that to help determine the appropriate height of the second door. Check out the gray dotted line above. No problem.