

About 250.000 years ago.as the Near East emerged from ice Age,an unknown species of man settled on the coast of Lebanon.It also enabled man to hunt animals to eat and use their skins to clothe himself during the cold and rainy season.From the tools left behind there is proof that the ancient Man sought shelter in the natural caves of Lebanon .