

Person: Thank you so much for meeting me here. I hope one of the service workers comes by soon so that we can place our order. I would like a main course, but I would also like several desserts. Here comes our server now. I have wanted to try this restaurant for a while now. It is supposed to be really good! Friend: It smells amazing, so if it tastes anywhere near that good, I know I will be happy that I came. Person: That is good to hear. I want to order a large meal because I am so hungry. Friend: What kind of food are you hoping to get? I am looking at this menu and do not see many names of dishes that I recognize. Person: I can order for you, if you like. Person: I am sure.