

The system includes advanced monitoring devices. When the consumption exceeds this limit, it will send notifications to the phone.