

Engineers have been actively developing tools to detect tumors and to process medical images. This project is about detecting Brain tumors from MRI images using an interface of GUI in Matlab. This allows us to use various combinations of filters, and other image processing techniques to arrive at the best result that can help us detect brain tumors in their early stages