

He realized that it was high and he could not reach it, so he asked the uncle for help, but he said, "Give me the lamp first," but Aladdin refused, so the uncle closed the cave for him. He spent three days screaming to no avail.