

Create a communications strategy for warning and informing those members of the public who would be the most difficult to inform.