

I live in a big town. The weather is windy and cold. I live in a big house with my family, but I don't like this town because it is noisier than where my grandfather lives and the house's cost is expensive.