

Affective factors involve emotions, attitudes, and motivations towards learning the second language.