To sum up everything that has been stated, due to population growth and economic activities, the quantities of wastes in the world have increased in the last decade (waste managemet , 2020).Not only our project focus on using sustainable components but also renewable energy sources as it uses the solar energy as the main energy source.Bridging the gap between our majors and what we learn in this course in this project was a hard to achieve but we enjoy the reading, researching and learning about new things.
