

MAGNETIC FIELDS PRODUCED BY CURRENTS 93 ionization process removes one electron from the particle, leaving it with a net positive charge of $+e$. The mass m of the detected ions can be expressed in terms of r , B , and by recalling that the radius of the path followed by a particle of charge $+e$ is $r = mv/eB$:
 eB (9.5)