

The poem is a list of advice that a father gives his son in a bad situation. It is important to stay calm even if the people around you panic and say you are responsible for this mistake. It is important to trust yourself even if other people mistrust you and to accept other people's criticism partially. Don't lie to people who lied to you and forgive those who hate you. The father's advice is in a way that shows he is better or smarter than others.
