

The experimental results presented in this paper showed the adsorption capacity of powdered activated carbon to remove Cbz and Sil from aqueous solutions.