

What happens during the proliferative phase? The endometrium is rebuilt due to a rise in the hormone estrogen. The proliferative phase lasts for half of a woman's cycle. It occurs before ovulation (the release of an egg).