

Preparations for potential MCIs include: Regular Training and Drills: Ensuring that all healthcare workers are trained in disaster response protocols and participate in regular simulation drills.