

HIV stands for Human immunodeficiency Virus. People test for their HIV status through Voluntary Counseling and Testing (VCT) centres. HIV virus affects the body's ability to fight diseases. The ability of a body to fight diseases is called immunity.