big cities in the states are the worst choice for living.