

Every red blood cell in the body contains iron in its hemoglobin. Long – term consequences include behavioral and cognitive defects.