

The Aga Khan Award for Architecture is an architectural prize established by the Aga Khan IV in 1977 in Geneva, Switzerland. The award is presented in cycles, each cycle lasting three years for multiple projects.