

To provide the scientific community with a single, centralized, authoritative resource for protein sequences and functional information, the SwissProt, TrEMBL and PIR protein database activities have united to form the Universal Protein Knowledgebase (UniProt) consortium. For convenient sequence searches, UniProt also provides several non-redundant sequence databases. The comprehensive UniProt Archive (UniParc) is updated daily from many public source databases.