

Dear owner of d3 company, I would like to file a complaint today about your product, as I purchased it last week, but it is not what was shown on the site, and it does not match the specifications found in the product description. I feel dissatisfied with this bad experience, and I would like to Return it back and I get my money back.