

"Friends" is one of my favorite TV shows because it perfectly blends humor, relatable characters, and heartwarming moments. The show follows six friends living in New York City as they tackle life's ups and downs. "Friends" never fails to entertain with its timeless comedy while also reminding me of the importance of friendship.