

It means that we want to make the speaker understand and make him feel that his requests are unresponsive commands that require nothing but hearing and obedience!