

Inner Beauty Inner beauty is considered the essence of an individual's true character. Unlike outer beauty, which can fade over time, inner beauty shines brighter. This beauty manifests in qualities such as compassion and purity. A person's ability to show kindness and love transcends any outward appearance. Ultimately, it's not how we look, but how we affect others' feelings that defines true beauty.