

Sarah and Maya have been friends since childhood. Their friendship is built on trust, laughter, and unwavering support, making them inseparable through all of life's ups and downs.