

Cardiac Glycosides O Digoxin Digoxin is a cardiac glycoside medication that has been used for centuries to treat heart failure .It has three effects on heart muscle : positive inotropic action ( increases contractility , stroke volume and , thus , cardiac output ) , negative chronotropic action ( decreases heart rate ) , and negative dromotropic action ( decrease conduction of cardiac cells ) .