

Rashid was a student who was not interested in his studies and was naughty. When he was young, his mother used to tell him to pay attention to your studies in order to create a good future, but he did not listen to her words, and now he is unemployed and he regrets that he did not listen to his mother.