

What is connectivity?4 v) The web is an information system where web resources and documents are identified by the uniform resource locators and allows the access of the resources and documents over the internet vi) Cloud computing makes use of the Internet and the internet to shift many laptop activities from a user's laptop to computer systems at the Internet.vii) The Internet of Things (IoT) is the persevering with improvement of the Internet that permits ordinary gadgets embedded with digital gadgets to ship and receive statistics over the Internet. ii) The wireless revolution relates to connectivity in that it causes connectivity to interact with digital components.What are cloud computing, the wireless revolution, and IoT?