

Finally, humor is a social phenomenon related to the use of wordplay to create funny utterances. The best way to use humor is by having a full understanding of the cultural fabric that we live in. By doing so, we can create good humor and avoid the negative impacts of it. Qatar University students use these semiotics by adopting universal features such as famous videos, movies to create local humor, expressing the daily issues.