

Alex watched Nouf sleep, a tenderness in his gaze masking the manipulative seduction he'd used, knowing her intoxication had clouded her judgment. He held her close, content in his conquest, planning his continued dominance. Nouf awoke sore and ashamed, the memories of the night before flooding back, including her broken leg now in a cast. Alex smirked, observing her distress from the doorway before approaching the bed, his touch lingering on her flushed skin. He reminded her of their encounter, his fingers teasing her, prompting her denial that she'd willingly participated. Alex reacted violently to her accusation of being drugged, grabbing her wrist and pinning her to the bed, asserting his ownership. Nouf fought back, vehemently rejecting his actions and accusing him of violating her. Alex's anger escalated, culminating in him choking and spanking her. Nouf's pleas for him to stop were met with cruel amusement and continued abuse. Alex's actions were interrupted by his mother, Emily, who witnessed the aftermath of his assault. Emily's disapproval was clear, but her observation of Alex's behavior fueled a plan to use Nouf to control Alex's violent tendencies. Nouf, humiliated, fled the room at Emily's command, leaving Alex and Emily to confront each other. Alex dismissed his mother's concern, revealing his knowledge of her past indiscretions and his unwavering determination to possess Nouf. Emily's warning to leave Nouf alone or face the consequences was met with Alex's defiance. He vowed to secure Nouf, regardless of the repercussions. Emily, horrified by her son's obsession and madness, contacted someone to secretly move Nouf to safety. Nouf, having bathed and dressed, found herself unexpectedly confronted by an enraged Alex, who threatened her with further abuse should she attempt to leave.
